AUSTRIAN STEAMSHIPS ARE SEIZED

In Several Ports Immediately Following News of Break With United States.

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 9.—The Austrian steamships Martha Washington and Linabona were seized today by port officials.
Philadelphia, April 9.—The collector of customs seized the Austrian steamship Frodocon today.
Newport News, April 9.—The Austrian steamship Budapest was seized today.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 9.—Baron Erich Zwidnek, in charge of the Austro-Hungarian affairs, demanded his passports today. By this action Austria-Hungary breaks off diplomatic relations with the United States. Almost at the same time, Minister Stovall at Bern reported relations broken at Vienna on April 8. Ambassador Penfield and his three assistants immediately left and Spain will take over the interests of the United States. All Austrian consular officials as well as diplomats will be withdrawn at once. The safe arrival of Ambassador Penfield and his party at Zurich was reported today.

Up to the time Charge Zwidnek demanded his passports no similar action had been taken by Bulgaria and Turkey, and their representatives disclaimed any knowledge of any such action on the part of their country. It is expected however that they will follow in the line of Austria.
Austria's break with the United States is believed to be the prelude to a declaration of war against the United States.
It is, however, doubtful if a state of actual warfare takes place unless Germany causes further influence at the Vienna capital.
About 200 native Americans are believed to be in Austro-Hungary at the present time.

STEAMSHIP STRIKES SUNKEN OBJECT

In Long Island Sound While Enroute to Providence and is Beached Near Bristol, R. I.

Bristol, R. I., April 9.—The steamer Tunkard with three hundred passengers, including many women and children from New York for Providence was beached on Hog Island, seven miles from here early this morning. The captain reported striking some submerged object while passing through Long Island Sound last night and when he realized that water was coming into the hold at such a rate as to make it doubtful of the steamer reaching Providence, he ran her on the beach. The passengers are in no immediate danger. Tugs have been sent from Providence and here in response to the wireless calls of the distressed steamer.

THE DANGERS BILIOUSNESS

This trouble often seems a simple one but you know how utterly useless it makes you feel—
Well, your system is just as weak as you feel and will readily succumb to colds or any serious diseases with which you come in contact.
Why not protect yourself against these deadly risks and be 100 per cent efficient all the time. C. T. Brewster & Co., of Dover, the successful druggists, are enthusiastic over their success with that old and tried remedy, Abbey's Effervescent Salts. It is so pleasant to take and so infallible in its results that it is rapidly adding not only to his patronage but to his reputation as a discriminating druggist who knows it to be good business to offer only the best to his patrons.
Try the new package of Abbey's, larger than ever at the same price, and see how it will brighten and strengthen you.

GLOUCESTER FISHERMEN CAPTURE STRIKE BREAKERS

(By Associated Press)
Gloucester, Mass., April 8.—Several hundred striking fishermen met tonight at the Blynnan bridge on West-ern avenue to await the arrival of sixty strike breakers brought by train to West Gloucester. They took the lantern away from the bridge tender and swung the iron draw gate across the bridge to hold back the men. Twenty-five of the strike breakers made their way to the property of the Gorton-Pew Fisheries company wharf.

When the strikers learned of the successful move they went to the Pew wharf, stormed the building where the men were housed, smashing the doors from the hinges, and took the men to strike headquarters demanding that they join the union or leave town. Guards have been placed about the property to protect it in case of further violence at the hands of the strikers.

FOUR MONTHS IN A CROCK LIKE THIS

Do you know that the solid part or body of the best paint is made from metal lead? To make the lead suitable for paint takes nearly four months.

Perforated disks of the pure metal are put into earthen crocks with vinegar in the bottom bowls and tan-bark piled outside. The fumes from the vinegar and tan-bark attack (corrode) the lead disks, slowly turning them into white-lead.

White-lead thus made from pure metal lead, ground and washed, is

Dutch Boy Red Seal White-Lead

White-lead made by the four months' process means a paint that will last for years on the house. It means a tough armor sheath against the attacks of time and weather. It means an elastic, smooth paint, impervious to moisture. It means a paint which goes a long way in spread and wear.

In either original white or tinted any color desired, on interiors or exteriors, it is a beautiful paint.

DESTRUCTION BY A GERMAN SEA RAIDER IS DESCRIBED

Copenhagen, April 8.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—What happens when a German sea-raider is scouring the Atlantic sinking merchant vessels is graphically portrayed in the story of the destruction of shipping by the German commerce-destroyer Pyramide as related to a Bentley correspondent by Captain A. Anderson, of the Norwegian steamer Hallbjorg, which was sunk by the raider while on her way from New York to a French port.

It was the Pyramide, according to Capt. Anderson which sank the British steamers Voltaire, Georgia, and Mount Temple and accumulated her prisoners on board the Yarrowdale on which vessel they were taken to Germany. Among them were many Americans, since released.

Pathetic scenes attended the sinking of the Mount Temple and the Georgia, both of which carried hundreds of horses. Captain Anderson said, "The Mount Temple" said, "the Captain, 'had on board 750 horses and a number of dogs. When she was sunk it was painful to see and hear many hundreds of horses, and dogs struggling and swimming about, a confused mass in the foaming sea."

"Another appalling sacrifice of animal life took place with the sinking of the Georgia which carried as part of her cargo 1,200 horses. The horses were maddened by the explosion of the torpedo which flooded the Georgia over, wreathed themselves loose and uttering terrifying sounds, plunged into the sea. Some of them reached the Pyramide and bent with their forefeet on the vessel's side in a frantic attempt to climb to safety. At last the crew were ordered to shoot the horses with their revolvers. This shooting continued for half an hour."

Describing the appearance of the German raider when he sunk the Hallbjorg, Capt. Anderson said: "The raider of the Pyramide suddenly dropped and the vessel, which we had taken for a harmless English merchantman, revealed herself now as a modern German warship with several guns pointed at us. We saw several torpedoes, there were two 6-inch guns, fore and aft, and two of the same kind on a lower deck. Later we found that the cover over the Pyramide's emergency steering gear concealed another big gun."

After Capt. Anderson and the other prisoners of the sunken vessels had been placed on board the Yarrowdale, the Germans went cruising with the Pyramide, and the captured British steamer St. Theodore.

"We noticed," said the Captain, "that on the following morning strange apparatus with long wires attached was cast overboard at different places and the wires connected with the Yarrowdale's chart cabin. This was a system of submarine telegraphy which would transmit and receive orders at a distance of 150 miles. We were connected with the Pyramide all the time. If anything suspicious appeared on the horizon the news was immediately forwarded to the Captain of the Pyramide."

Sixty members of the company arrived early Saturday evening, the remainder coming here in the late evening and Sunday morning.

The company is composed of colored troops, commanded by Captain J. Holman Pryor, and is "as fine a looking body of national guardsmen one would care to see. Every man in the command stands five feet, ten inches and they present a pretty businesslike appearance."

The territory under patrol includes the Dover Point bridge as well as the local bridge and yard. More troops are expected to arrive within a few days.

The Rye Beach Cable station, the terminal of the cable from Halifax, is under guard of a number of U. S. Marines, assigned to this work by Capt. Howard, Commandant on the Navy Yard. These are to be replaced later by soldiers. It is understood, "The troops of the Massachusetts regiment are in the federal service, never having been mustered out since the withdrawal of the forces from the Mexican border. They are being quartered at the B. & M. station here, the Dover Point and Newington stations, and at Kittery Junction."

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

EAT LESS MEAT. ALSO TAKE GLASS OF SALT BEFORE
EATING BREAKFAST

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys bog you must keep them flush off, the body's poisonous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. "This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness."

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney

GENERAL CARRANZA UPSETS AMBITIOUS POLITICAL PLANS

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, March 31.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press).—The new decree of General Carranza providing for the calling of elections for state offices has put an end to various ambitious political plans of some of the more prominent political parties for controlling the state elections and, through the state machinery, of influencing the next elections for president.

Under the old plan of Guadalupe, on which much of the program of the Constitutional government is based, the provisional governors of the states were empowered to call state elections at any time they saw fit after the president and national congress had been elected and taken their seats.

Under the new constitution, officers of the army and those holding federal government positions must resign 30 days prior to the election before they can become candidates for governor. The provisional governors, therefore, by calling elections at times suited to them could have eliminated many candidates under these provisions.

The decree of General Carranza, however, amends the Plan of Guadalupe so that the provisional governors of the states may call state elections only with the authority of the First Chief of the Constitutional army in charge of the executive power, or after May 1 when Carranza becomes the President of the Republic.

JAPANESE WRITERS SAY PRESIDENT IS COURAGEOUS

(By Associated Press)

Tokio, March 31.—President Wilson is hailed as a courageous upright statesman, and a man of great reserve force by five noted Japanese writers who select him for a symposium of views in a well known Japanese review. Among the contributors are Dr. Inazo Nitobe and Professor M. Anezaki, former exchange professor at Harvard University.

Professor Anezaki wrote: "Mr. Wilson is a statesman of no policy; he is a man of ideals and high principles. At times he may appear narrow because of his immutable principles; and his ideas may seem vague for the reason of their being too high. But as a man who respects his own ideals and principles in the teeth of all opposition, he has even been the seem either as president of a university, governor of a state, or as President of the United States.

"As President, Mr. Wilson has shown himself to be a man who has the courage to express his own opinion and the courage to put that opinion into practice. There is no catch-nenny cheapness about his manners. He never speaks to the gallery. He takes elaborate preparations before he arrives at any decision, and one having formed it he never changes it.

"Mr. Wilson is a pacifist to be sure, but he is not an unconditional pacifist. As President, he respects the opinion of the American people."

HAMBURG ANGRY BECAUSE U. S. ENTERS WAR

London, April 7.—The Daily Express correspondent at the Hague writes: "America's decision has caused deep consternation in German commercial circles, especially in Hamburg and Bremen. In these circles where Herr Ballin is supreme, Gen. von Hindenburg, to whose decision the 'ruthless' U-boat war is due, is generally called 'the wooden jackass.'"

"The people are wondering now whether he will compensate Hamburg and Bremen merchants and shippers for the millions they are going to lose by seizure of their ships in American ports."

"According to a traveler from Hamburg, who arrived here today, when Herr Ballin, director general of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, heard of Wilson's message, he immediately left for Berlin to impress on the German Admiralty the necessity of sinking no more American ships in order to avoid, if possible, seizure of German ships in American harbors."

"Herr Ballin also expresses publicly his most violent dissatisfaction that muddlers of the Admiralty and Foreign Office should have caused a step which, he said, would probably ruin his efforts of 20 years in the creation of a German mercantile marine."

Government Price Fixing.

News comes from Washington that the government is using its drastic powers to protect itself against exorbitant war profits. The national defense act gives the government powers in certain directions similar to those exercised by Old World nations, and any failure to meet the government's demands in connection with war measures is punishable by a fine of $50,000 and three years' imprisonment.

A manufacturer was recently directed to furnish a large order of war supplies, but the price he put on his wares was not satisfactory, and the government proceeded to make a price of its own which it is believed will keep the profit down to 10 per cent. This is thought to be enough, and some of the large concerns of the country have already offered to furnish supplies to the government at a profit of not more than 10 per cent. In case any manufacturing concern refuses the government's terms its plant may be taken over and operated by the government.

That this is a drastic law none will dispute, but apparently it was necessary to enact it to protect the government against the greed of men whose only interest in war is what they can get out of it. The case in question shows that there are those who are ready to improve the first chance to grab, and it is well that a way has been devised to stop them.

And, now that a way has been discovered to safeguard the government against the business sharks who would rob it right and left if they had a chance, why should not a similar step be taken in behalf of the people? There is every reason to believe that the prices of many commodities are higher than they need to be; that the condition that exists is not based upon the law of supply and demand, but has been brought about by collusion and monopoly and a determination to wring from consumers the last dollar and the last cent obtainable.

If the government can compel manufacturers of war materials to serve it at a fair profit why can it not compel dealers in commodities to serve the people on a similar basis? It should be as able in one case as in the other to find out what constitutes a fair profit, and why has it not as much right to act in one case as in the other? Would it not be well, for instance, for the government to assist in fixing the price of coal at a rate which would give the producers a fair profit and the people a chance to live?

The time is coming when such questions will be asked more frequently than they are now, and the people will demand an answer.

A fist fight in Washington the other day between Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and some Boston pacifists would indicate that the latter are not quite as pacific as they might be. Senator Lodge is not a shoulder-bitter, and responsibility for the affray will have to be borne by the men who went to the national capital ostensibly on an errand of peace.

The Prussian minister of war is said to regard the probable entrance of the United States into the war on the side of the allies as a matter of minor importance. The allies and the rest of the world will not so regard it, and the probability is that the Prussian minister of war will change his mind before Uncle Sam has been long in the game.

The name, at least, of the St. Louis is from Missouri, and the vessel has shown the submariners that not all of the ocean lanes are closed to peaceable commerce. And they will not be. The ocean is the world's highway and it is not in the power of any one nation to close it.

One man says there will be so many potatoes raised this year that it will be impossible to hire men enough to dig them next fall. This is probably an overestimate, but should the prediction prove true perhaps it would be possible to meet the situation by "conscription."

While it is true that a person is apt to be judged by the company he keeps it is equally true that the judgment is not always correct. Some of the sleekest swindlers move in the best society until their sins find them out.

A Sioux chief announces his ability and readiness to enlist from 25,000 to 30,000 of his tribesmen for service in the war. If the kaiser doesn't look out he will have a "French and Indian" war on his hands.

Vermont has gone out of the Gretna Green business, but there will still be hasty and unhappy marriages there unless conditions are different from those in other states.

BONE-DRY BILL GETS 31 VOTES IN MAINE HOUSE

100 Against It; Author Laces His Party With Sarcasm for Cowardice.

Under bitter debate of personalities and sarcasm, the Bussard "bone-dry" bill was decisively beaten in the Maine House of Representatives on Saturday by a vote of 100 to 31. Bussard, the author of the bill, indulged in a hot fight on the floor in which he called the Republican majority for its alleged cowardice in demanding prohibition before election and voting against it afterward. He also asserted that the practically solid vote was cast for Hughes last November and the greater part of the temperance vote for Wilson.

The bill would absolutely prohibit the importation of intoxicating liquor into Maine except for sacramental, medicinal and mechanical purposes, even for personal use.

WANTED TO RE-ENLIST IN THE SERVICE

Bandmaster R. L. Reinwald, U. S. N., retired, of this city, appeared at the navy recruiting office at Boston on Saturday and offered his services to the government. The Boston Post, touching on the former bandmaster's patriotism, has the following:

"One of the first men to answer the call to the national colors in the fleet reserve, in the Boston district, brought his old uniform and 57 years of age with him. He is R. L. Reinwald of Portsmouth, N. H., who entered the service of the United States navy in 1860.

Reinwald, gray-haired but carrying himself like a young warrior, walked into the navy recruiting station at 146 Tremont street and said: 'I am a veteran sailor of Uncle Sam, and have been aboard his ships from 1860 until I lost count of the years. Enroll me and put me to work. If there's war with Germany, I want to get in it with my old Uncle.'

"Former Bandmaster Reinwald was not re-enlisted, however. His years are too many. His record shows he entered the service aboard the old Vandalia—one of the relics of the Civil War's sea fighting days. He was present at the burial of Admiral Farragut in 1870."

LOSS OF HEARING BRINGS SERVICE TO A CLOSE

(By Associated Press) Peking April 9.—Dr. Wu Ting-fang's service as Minister of Foreign Affairs early this month was brought to a sudden end by his loss of hearing. Dr. Wu accepted the foreign office portfolio reluctantly at the request of the President, Li Yuan-hung and leaders of the different parties in China. He was a compromise candidate who stepped in at a time when the opposing faction could not agree on anybody else.

Dr. Wu Ting-fang assumed office last November. He was suffering slightly with deafness at that time. Shortly after he came to Peking he contracted a severe cold and pneumonia was threatened. Although he has recovered, his hearing is now almost completely gone.

GUARDS BRIDGE IN FINE SHAPE

(By Associated Press) Haverhill April 9.—William Morris, a 17-year-old boy was so patriotic that it led to his being arrested yesterday. It is alleged that he stole a uniform in order to guard a bridge near here. For two days he has patrolled the bridge with a revolver. He held up suspicious looking persons and people who did not look like spies. Not a person was able to get by him without being held up, it was said.

The young man was so very active as a guard that Lieutenant George Cotton of F. Company, Eighth Regiment, heard of him. The officer knew that no guardsman had been assigned to the bridge where the boy had been seen, so he went down to see if a sort of "Flying Dutchman" soldier was on the job.

The officer notified the police and this afternoon Morris was arrested on a charge of larceny. It is claimed that he stole the uniform from a local Greek. The outfit is not like the regulation United States army equipment.

SOUTH ELIOT.

A meeting of the "Midnight Hawks" a new club composed of young members of the Methodist church, was held at the home of Clyde Staples on Saturday evening. The evening was passed very pleasantly and games of all kinds were enjoyed until the midnight hour.

Eliot Fernald, Sidney Spiney, Giles Fernald, Edison Cole, Everett Cole, Frank Dixon, Albert Dixon, Edwin Ham, Clyde Staples, Carl Staples, Elbridge Brooks.

RAILROAD AND LIQUOR BILLS

Interest Will Center Largely About These Measures in Legislature.

Concord, April 9.—Interest in the legislature this week will center largely on the railroad committee hearings in the house and the final lineup on the Lewis prohibition bill in the senate. Chairman Fairbanks of this railroad committee hopes that the hearing on the rehabilitation bill may be completed this week so that the bill may be reported. He has no disposition to hurry the consideration of the bill in the committee and all who have anything to suggest will be given a hearing by the committee but it was the opinion of members of the committee that by putting in all day tomorrow and all of the time outside of the house sessions on Tuesday, the matter could be practically all aired by Tuesday.

There have been suggestions that the final sessions before the committee votes on the bill might well be in committee of the whole house, as was done two years ago, with each side having a limited time in which to present their case to the representatives. This suggestion is based upon the comparatively short time the bill has been before the legislature this year. "This year there has been the advantage of a definite proposal to consider, as contrasted with the many plans brought up for consideration two years ago, none of which had any substantial backing.

This year the bill has not only the approval of a majority of the Boston and Maine stockholders, but also the majorities of the leased line stockholders. Nevertheless there is a lively opposition headed by Judge James W. Remick and Clarence E. Carr of the trustees of the John H. Pearson estate. The other Pearson estate trustee, Alvin H. Cross, has come out strongly in favor of the bill.

Speculation on the fate of the Lewis bill in the senate continues a popular topic for discussion with predictions both ways. The prohibitionists still profess the utmost confidence that the senate will back up the action of the house by a substantial majority, while the license advocates hold that the senate at best will not pass the bill in its present form. The most telling arguments against the bill have been that it is anything but a "bone dry" bill, giving unlimited freedom for the sale of elder and also providing for more or less free distribution of liquor through the agencies.

Chief Michael J. Healey made a very strong plea for the rejection of the present law, and he made an observable impression upon the senators who heard him, but there appears to be an undercurrent of feeling that political expediency will go a long way in overriding the individual belief of senators and the expediency seems to be all in favor of the bill. Master Wesley Adams of the state senate, however, declared that the farmers dislike the plea of favoritism to them on account of the elder clause and urged the senate to strike it out of the bill, assuring them that the grange would approve of their action. The plea of expediency on the bill also found favor, but there is heard nevertheless to be powerful opposition to any amendments which would send the bill back to the house.

Mr. Lewis frankly told the senate committee the other day that he did not believe the house would pass the bill again and pleaded not to send the bill back.

There are two special orders in the house for Tuesday, one relating to the height of dams and the other extending the power of the public service commission in fixing rates and fares. The latter was made a special order on motion of Mr. Mearns of Concord when it was reported favorably by the railroad committee last week. On Wednesday the Sunday baseball bill is down as a special order and some fervid oratory may be expected on this. The original bill was introduced by Mr. McKay of Manchester and was frankly a Sunday baseball bill. In the present draft however, it provides for inclusion of all amateur sports as permissible.

Golf Is Considered

Golf would be legalized by this bill, although nobody claims that any special provision is needed for golf, a fact which doubtless will come in for attention from the champions of the bill.

In connection, it may be said that if the bill is killed, which seems altogether likely, Mr. Cummings of Littleton has a plan which he may endeavor to bring before the legislature. His idea is the appointment of a recess committee to make a study of the whole question of old laws with a view to revising the laws relating to sports and all Sunday regulations. Although there is a precedent for a recess committee by virtue of the vote of the house authorizing Speaker Morrill to appoint one to make a study of workman's compensation and health insurance, without doubt there would be a strenuous opposition to a similar committee to take up the question of Sunday observances, by the Sabbath Day league, which is entirely satisfied with the present restrictions and would have the ban more widely placed on Sunday pleasures.

As is usual at this state of the session, the senate is the one with the greatest volume of business on hand. Of the 201 house bills and resolutions and the 31 from the senate, Clerk Young's books show that all but 54 have been disposed of by the lower branch. The house has killed 361 house and five senate measures and has passed 297. Of these 210 have passed both branches, the other 81 now being in the senate. Of the 45 bills in house committees and delegations, appropriations has 31.

The report of the senate calendar, prepared by Asst. Clerk Cheney, shows a total of 321 house measures received by the upper branch of which 221 have been concurred in and 28 killed. The senate, all told, has considered 382 bills and joint resolutions, 297 of them having been disposed of

WAR RESTAURANT INAUGURATED

Rome, April 9.—The first war restaurant has just been inaugurated here in the presence of the mayor, Prince Colonna.

The restaurant is the best proof of how cheap it is possible to live, notwithstanding the exaggerated war prices which have even risen to ten times the cost of some products. One buys the following tickets: One for bread, two cents wine, five cents; macaroni, eight cents; roast meat, ten cents; fruit, two cents; total twenty-seven cents. No tips allowed. Meals can also be purchased and taken home.

CARRANZA HAS APPROVED PLANS

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, April 9.—General Carranza has approved the project of which the Department of Fomento, Colonization and Industry, is to be divided into two separate departments, known as the Department of Colonization, Lands and Waters, and the Department of Mines, Commerce and Industry.

OLYMPIA THEATRE NOTES.

The Los Angeles studios of the Paramount-Jesse Lasky company, headed by Director De Mille, have organized a regular company which is drilled two nights a week by a commissioned officer of the U. S. army. Among those in the company are Wallace Reid, Robert Bosworth, Jack Dean, Raymond Hutton, Jack Holt and James Cruz.

The inspiration for the Lasky soldier boys is made up of the following who will act as nurses: Mary Pickford, Mae Murray, Bonnie Ward, Anita King, Vivian Martin and Kathryn Williams. Alma Reubens, who has been supporting William Hart and Douglas Fairbanks, will in the future, continue to star opposite Hart.

The feature picture on the program for today and tomorrow is the Tri-lingual Fine Arts subject, "Jim Bludso," with Wilfred Lucas.

With the exception of the Fairbanks pictures this is probably the most spectacular Fine Arts subject ever shown.

The picture is an adaptation of the famous poem written by the late John Jay, formerly secretary of State during the Roosevelt and McKinley administrations.

The action of the picture includes a Mississippi river town through the bursting of a river levee. Water is seen running through the streets and rises to the second story windows of the houses.

We also see the destruction by fire of a large river steamer.

Blanche Sweet has the leading role in a Paramount play entitled, "Public Opinion."

Francis Bushman and Beverly Bayne co-star in the ninth episode of the great serial, "The Great Secret."

A hilarious comedy completes a most pretentious bill.

April 9. CONGRESS ST.

TO HAVE MORE RESPONSIBILITY

President Wilson Will Not Transfer General Wood.

Washington, April 9.—General Leonard Wood is not to be transferred by the War Department from the command of the Department of the East, with headquarters at New York, to Charleston, S. C. Although orders for the transfer were issued by the department two weeks ago, they will not go into effect.

The administration has changed its mind, and General Wood will remain in command of the most important division of the army, and if moved therefrom it will be to a place of even greater importance.

While no public announcement is made of the revocation of the orders sending him to Charleston, the fact that the order will not be enforced will be received and should be received as the strongest intimation from the administration that merit is to be recognized and supported, and that the interests of the nation will be the sole consideration of the direction of military affairs.

The chief cause of the change in the intentions of the administration concerning General Wood, was produced by the fact of an actual state of war, and the realization that with the country at war the best ability that can be brought into the service of the nation must be recognized and utilized.

That the President and his advisers had decided to rectify the blunder made when the transfer of General Wood was decided upon shows that the President has risen above political considerations and is himself following the course which he has urged upon the people generally. This is a manifestation of importance and will undoubtedly increase the great confidence which the President has won by his straightforward American policies of the last two weeks.

HIGH CLASS MEN WANTED FOR FOREIGN POSTS

High class men are wanted by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce, to fill positions as Commercial Attaches in foreign countries. An examination will be held on April 25 and the names of the most successful applicants will be placed on an eligible list. From this list will be chosen men to fill vacancies as they occur in South America, Australasia, and the East.

Commercial Attaches are frequently termed "trade diplomats." They receive salaries up to $5,000 a year, and as they are accredited by the State Department to the embassies or legations in the countries to which they are assigned, they have a diplomatic standing. Only high grade men are wanted as they must represent the American government and American business before the principal government officials and the most important business men in foreign countries. They must have the personality that such a position requires, must know business, and must be sufficiently familiar with manufacturing, trade, and finance to exercise good judgment in cases that will involve trading and financial transactions.

The examination will be conducted by the Civil Service Commission in the principal cities of the country, and will consist of separate papers on foreign trade, current events in history and government in foreign countries, industrial conditions, economic and commercial geography and transportation, and foreign languages. Applications to take the examination will not be considered unless a complete statement of the education and experience of the applicant is submitted.

MAPS OF NEW ENGLAND COAST ON HIS PERSON

United States Secret Service Agent from Boston Will Make Investigation Some Time Today

The first arrest in this section of a suspected German spy was made on Sunday morning at York Harbor when Constable James Holland took into custody a young man having in his possession a number of maps and a quantity of manuscript written in German which he refused to translate into English. He was arrested as a suspicious character and is being held for the federal authorities. A United States Secret Service Agent from Boston will make the examination some time today.

Officer Holland was notified that a young man, roughly dressed, and acting in a peculiar manner, was prowling about the shores at York Harbor on Sunday morning. He immediately went to the district, supposing that he had a good knowledge of the New England coast, especially the position of the barge. Approaching the man he demanded his name and business, and was refused any information. Officer Holland placed him under arrest as a suspicious character. He was taken to the town lockup at that he had spent the night sleeping in a motor boat in Portsmouth Harbor. A search of his pockets revealed a number of maps of the New England coast, bearing notations in German. A German map of the New England coast, bearing notations in German, was also found in his possession. He at first refused to answer any questions. Officer Holland communicated with Captain William L. WILL DEVOTE WEEK TO DRILLS

New Hampshire College Gives Much Attention to Preparedness.

Durham, April 8.—As a part of its military preparation for the war, New Hampshire college will give up its entire time the first week after the spring recess to military drill. The administration committee today voted that Captain Hunt, U. S. A., commandant of the cadet regiment be given permission to take complete charge of the men from Tuesday, April 17, until the close of the annual inspection, Tuesday, April 24.

In years past, the annual inspection by some visiting officer of the United States army has been more or less of a formality and occupied about half a day. This year it promises to be particularly thorough and will occupy two full days and it is the intention of the college to be prepared to pass with high grade. No excuse of any kind will be accepted for absences from drill and all athletic activities are to be entirely set aside during this period. For the girl students of the college a special series of lectures April 17, 18, 19 and 20. These evening lectures will be on matters pertaining to the present war crisis and attendance at them will be required.

The committee also decided to offer all the data and information concerning the agricultural resources of New Hampshire which the college has secured through its recent surveys, to the governor of the state as chairman of the committee on public safety. And it was also voted that the agricultural and engineering divisions of the college be requested to make an inventory of their resources and indicate in what ways they may be best used to serve our country and state welfare.

CHARGE MARINES WITH OPENING RAILROAD GATES

Freight Train Crashes Into the Same at Noble's Island.

Two members of the marine guard were arrested on Sunday night at the toll gate of the Portsmouth and Kittery bridge. It is alleged that they interfered in some way with the street and railroad gates on the Noble's Island bridge. The watchman claims that the gates were open for the passage of a train and closed against highway traffic when the soldiers came along and opened them, causing the gates to swing against a moving freight train and get smashed.

They were later held up by the sentry from Company L of the Sixth Massachusetts regiment doing duty on the bridge and detained for the police patrol wagon.

Both men claim they are absolutely innocent and that the gates were opened by a man and woman who passed along ahead of them. The case was heard in the police court at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Prescription Insurance

HAVING a prescription compounded in this store means prescription insurance in the very highest sense of the term. It means that you are going to get just exactly what your physician ordered.

When a doctor writes the name of a drug or medicine, together with the correct proportion, there is only one way that that prescription should be filled. When you bring your prescription here you may rest assured that just what the doctor calls for you will receive. That's prescription insurance worth while.

BELIEVES TIME HAS ARRIVED FOR OPEN PEACE DISCUSSION

London, April 2.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Noel Buxton, a member of Parliament, and avowed pacifist, who recently visited the United States, outlined before a peace meeting here the other day, the terms which he said he was told by the "highest authorities in America" that the Allies could obtain from Germany at the present time.

Mr. Buxton explained that he believed the time had arrived for an open discussion of peace terms. "My reason for this belief," he said, "is the fact that we are no longer the bottom dog but the top dog on land, as we always had been at sea."

"When I was in America I was informed by the highest authorities there that the terms which it would have been possible to get from Germany a few months ago included the complete abandonment of Germany's claims to retain the lands she has conquered without exception, including the restoration of Serbia and the severance of the corridor to the East, and the guarantee to Serbia of access to the sea, the acquisition by Italy of the Trentino, and above all, the absolute restoration of the territory and sovereignty to Belgium, Germany retaining no right whatever to Antwerp and giving Belgium no indemnity for her losses."

"In regard to France the terms include, not only the restoration of her territory but the cession of a large part of French Lorraine, and, in particular, the fortress of Metz. Russia would have secured, under these terms, the use of the Straits by international control, which America would be prepared to guarantee. These terms, in the opinion of the highest authorities in America, are perfectly possible."

"Even more favorable terms will be available in a short time. If such terms are obtainable they ought to be obtained at the earliest possible moment, and the reason we cannot get them is because extremism is the dominant force in the country and the press. To annihilate the pride of a great people is not statesmanship, but insanity. It is akin to the childish folly which lost us America, which nearly lost us South Africa, and which has nearly brought us to a dangerous crisis by the mismanagement of Ireland."

NOTABLE OFFER MADE BY WOMEN

N. H. Equal Suffrage Association
Loans Services of Mrs. Post.

To the list of patriotic offers of support and co-operation received by Governor Keyes must be added that of the New Hampshire State Equal Suffrage Association. At a recent meeting of the executive board of that body resolutions were passed to that effect and today were sent to the executive office of Concord. The resolutions were as follows:

"Whereas, The country is about to undertake and prosecute a righteous war, and there is need of all loyal citizens giving unflinching support in this grave national crisis, therefore, Be it resolved:

"That the State Suffrage association of New Hampshire offers to the governor of the state the cordial co-operation and support of its organization, with its large membership of loyal and patriotic women. The governor of New Hampshire may rely on the spirit of self-sacrificing citizenship, ready for any service which the state may need, which inspires the personnel of the Suffrage association at this critical time."

As a further evidence of our sympathy with statewide efforts to prepare for defense, the State Suffrage association has offered to the Committee of Public Safety, in a letter to the chairman of that body, John B. Jamieson, the services of their salaried woman worker, Mrs. Mary Post. The Suffrage organization proposes to pay the salary of Mrs. Post who has proven herself a competent worker of exceptional merit, and loan her ability and service to the Committee on Public Safety, thus putting into tangible and definite form their desire to be of use to those who seek to defend state and country. The letter to Mr. Jamieson follows:

"My Dear Mr. Jamieson:
"At a meeting of the executive committee of the New Hampshire Suffrage association it was unanimously voted that that organization should tender to the Committee of Public Safety of New Hampshire the services of our very efficient and able salaried worker, Mrs. Mary Post.

"We wish earnestly to assure you of our desire to be of service to the state at this critical time, and it would give us deepest satisfaction to feel that we can contribute in the safety and the defense of our state and country. It is to this end that we offer the services of Mrs. Post, a trained worker, trusting that we may do our share toward supporting the work of the Committee of Public Safety.

"With the most cordial assurances of our interest and earnest desire to be of assistance in your patriotic labors,

"Respectfully yours,
"MARITIA KIMBALL,
"President, New Hampshire Equal Suffrage Association."

A landing by Russian troops on the coast of Asia Minor has been effected from a torpedo boat in the Black sea. The operation was carried out in the month of the river Terek, 180 miles west of Trebizond, and a Turkish observation post was burned.

Ten Turkish vessels with valuable cargoes were captured by the Russians and taken into Trebizond.

AIRMEN FLY FIFTY MILES BEHIND LINE

British airmen are continuing to carry out their intensive fighting, bombing and scouting operations over the German lines in France and Belgium. A forty 50 miles behind the German front was one of the exploits recorded for the aviation Sunday. Considering the results they have achieved in fighting, bombing and scouting, the British airmen count the cost in the loss of airplanes a small one.

Except for an advance by the British over a front of nearly a mile and three-quarters north of Louvain, which lies about midway between Bapaume and Cambrai, artillery duels, trench raiding and airplane bombing operations have featured the fighting on the western front in France and Belgium.

There was no infantry action Sunday on this front, the British having carried out their attack against the Germans Saturday night. At the same time General Nivelle's forces were penetrating trenches near Lombray, Belgium, and inflicting casualties on the defenders. Berlin reports the repulse with heavy losses of French attacks Saturday near Laffaux, north-east of Soissons.

STUDY METHODS AS EMPLOYED IN BAY STATE

NEW HAMPSHIRE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMITTEE SPENT TWO HOURS WITH CHAIRMAN STORROW OF BOSTON

Boston, April 8.—The executive committee and members of important sub-committees of the New Hampshire Committee on Public Safety spent two hours yesterday with Chairman Storrow and the executive committee of the Massachusetts Committee on Public Safety studying methods.

The importance of agricultural preparedness, particularly to such states as New Hampshire and Maine, was dwelt upon by Chairman Storrow. He explained the steps taken by Massachusetts, whereby representatives have been sent to manufacturers throughout the state, outlining a plan under which labor can be loaned for agricultural purposes if the care, or harvesting, of crops becomes critical.

Steps have also been taken by the Massachusetts committee, he said, to encourage the banking interests of the state to extend aid to agricultural development, and he recommended that New Hampshire take somewhat similar steps.

The military organization accomplished was described by Executive manager Henry B. Endicott, and Acting Adjt. Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser explained how the work of recruiting had been developed and helped greatly by the active campaign of assistance was led by the Massachusetts committee.

The visitors left early in the evening for New Hampshire. The party included: John B. Jamieson, chairman, Acting Adjt. Gen. E. It was expected that the senate would recede and act in concurrence.

MOST IMPRESSIVE SERVICE AT THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

Beautiful Music, Exquisite Decorations and Hundreds of Communicants.

All the Easter services at the Church of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday were attended by large congregations. The beautiful decorated altars, magnificent vestments and music were in keeping with the day.

The solemn high mass was the most impressive of the day's ceremonies. The sermon taken from the gospel of the day, delivered by Rev. Father John, of the Passionists Order was a most able discourse and one of the best heard from the altar of this church in many years. The feast day was marked by many hundreds of communicants at the early services.

The sacred musical portion of the service at 10:30, given by the senior choir, under the direction of Organist and Choir Director W. W. McIntire, received a perfect rendition by twenty voices. Hammett's Mass, sung for the first time was superbly executed. Each solo, duet, quartet, produced excellent harmony and effect.

The children, who sang at the 8 o'clock mass under the direction of a Sister of Mercy, showed excellent training and their hymns and anthems sung by nearly one hundred voices, added much to the day's service to greet the risen Lord.

COMPLAINED OF VICIOUS DOG

Herbert O. Farrington of Kittery was in court Saturday evening, having been complained of by John W. Perkins of Echo street, for keeping a troublesome dog on that street. The dog was alleged to be dangerous and vicious. Mr. Perkins testified that he had been threatened by the dog for more than a year and had been obliged to beat him off on several occasions. Deputy Sheriff James K. Boardman stated that the dog, which is a large Irish terrier, had become a nuisance in the neighborhood, and had run out of the yard at passing folks. The dog had not bitten anyone, but the people were afraid of the dog and had reason to be afraid. The court thought that Mr. Perkins and the neighborhood ought to be protected, and Mr. Farrington promised that he would return the dog to the person he got it of, and was given five days to so dispose of the animal. Costs of $4.50 were paid.

Come in and see them. You'll appreciate their value.
